

Hot night in Lancaster Tuesday

There were at least two events bringing crowds out in Lancaster Tuesday night. The first was over at Ryland Park, where Summer Nights on the Plaza took place outside of Schreiner Memorial Library. Larry Busch led the Dixieland All-Stars in a musical telling of the life of Bix Beiderbecke, one of the most influential jazz soloists of the 1920's. A rambunctious, rebellious artist from Davenport, his life was cut short and clouded in mystery, leading to his life being told many times in many ways.

A little bit later in the evening, members of the Lancaster Fire Department were called out to a container fire along Elm Street / CTH A on the edge of the city. The fire was suspected to be intentionally lit, and is currently being investigated.
