THE LAST "FIRSTS" AND NEW BEGINNINGS...

Tricia Hurley
Advertising, Sales, & Marketing Manager

Our only child, Nathalie, will graduate from Peshtigo High School this Memorial Day weekend. I have so many emotions churning around inside of me! How on earth did this creep up on us so quickly? Is she ready for the next step? Where did the time go? Wasn't she just starting 4K like yesterday? It's a rite of passage that no one ever truly prepares a parent for. When she was young, there were books I could read on different topics - healthy eating, bullying, how to instill good new chapter in her life. The road to graduation wasn't always a smooth one, but she made it and so did I! She will be attending UW Green Bay in the fall, pursuing a degree in Writing and Applied Arts and that fills her Dad and I with so much joy. She'll be close to home and that eases my heart a bit.

As the saying goes, "All good things must come to an end." I'm trying to view it as just the beginning, however, because that's truly what it is for Nathalie and her fellow graduating Seniors. This is their time to spread their wings and fly, try new things, meet new people, and branch out on their own. While they may fly far, my hope is that they will always return to their nest - to the place they know and to the people who love them the most. I wish all area families of graduating Seniors much love and joy in the weeks ahead. And to our precious Nathalie - we will always be here for you! We love you to the moon and back, sweet girl!

"New Beginnings"

study habits, how to navigate friendships, etc... but there is no book to help prepare a parent for the "last firsts."

Senior year has been all about the "last firsts" - from Nathalie's last first day of school (she's thrilled the days of posing with a first day of school sign are over!), to her last Cross Country meet (she scored a personal record this year to round out her high school career!), her last band concert, and her final dance recital. There is a definite feeling that it's all coming to an end and this Momma's heart is heavy with that realization. When you put your heart and soul into raising a child, to have it all suddenly end is incredibly difficult. What will I do with my time when there are no meets or concerts or events to attend? Who will I pretend to help with Algebra? To whom am I to bestow my infinite wisdom on varying topics? My world will be changing as much as hers and it's sad. At the same time, I am incredibly happy that Nathalie will be starting a
