By LeAnn R. Ralph
 BOYCEVILLE — The Boyceville High School Class of 2022 has three co-valedictorians: Libby Bygd, Ella Holden and Shiloh Wheeldon.

Bygd

Libby Bygd is the daughter of Kevin and Sadie Bygd.

Her three top favorite classes at Boyceville High School were Sociology, Independent Art and Spanish.

“Sociology has been one of my favorite classes that I have enrolled in throughout high school, and Mr. Engel has always made the class very interactive and fun,” Libby said.

“Independent Art was another one of my favorite classes because it allowed me to have freedom and creativity with my projects, and Mrs. Steinkraus made the class very enjoyable,” she said.

“Spanish was another favorite class for me because it was interesting to learn another language and be able to communicate with Spanish-speaking students,” Libby said.

The SARS-CoV-2 pandemic, which resulted in schools being closed down statewide in March of 2020 and altered day-to-day school operations and cancelled various activities in the 2020-2021 and 2021-2022 school years, was memorable for Libby.

“The most memorable event that happened while I was in high school was how our lives changed when COVID shut down our world. It was memorable because it made such a difference in our high school experience,” she said.

During her time at Boyceville High School, Libby has been active in a variety of activities for all four years: softball, volleyball, Science Olympiad, church youth choir, student council member, mis-

In Libby’s junior and senior years, she was active in National Honor Society, and during her senior year, she was active in Drama Club and served on the yearbook committee as well.

“Softball is and will continue to be my favorite activity from high school,” she said.

Libby’s summer plans promise to keep her busy, too.

“This summer I plan to spend my time working as a nanny. Additionally, I will at-

Libby’s post-secondary plans will take her to Iowa.

“I plan to attend Luther College in Decorah, Iowa, to study psychology,” she said.

Holden

Ella Holden is the daughter of Nate and Melissa Holden.

Sociology, Anatomy and Physiology, and Independent Art were among her top three favorite classes at Boyceville High School.

“These classes have been my favorite because they are applicable to everyday life,” Ella said.

In addition to her favorite classes, baseball, specifically the 2021 state championship, was a favorite for her as well.

“The most memorable event that happened while I was in high school was watching the baseball team win the 2021 State Championship,” she said.

During all four years of high school, Ella was active in volleyball, softball, trap-shooting/Community Ed Team, Science Olympiad, student council and served as class president.

Ella worked on the Boyceville High School yearbook during her senior year.

“My favorite activity throughout high school has been athletics as a whole — cheering and playing. Because of athletics, I have created relationships and memories that will last a lifetime,” she said.

Ella’s plans for the summer include working on the East Coast.

“After graduation, I will spend my summer working. I plan to nanny on the East Coast for part of the summer as well as continuing my other jobs. In addition to my summer jobs, I will attend a mission trip to Nashville, Tennessee," she said.

Ella will be attending UW-River Falls next fall.

"I have not yet determined my field of study; however, I am interested in pursuing a degree in Health and Biomedical Science or Business," she said.

Wheeldon

Shiloh Wheeldon is the daughter of Joseph and Laurie Wheeldon.

Her favorite classes while she was a student at Boyceville High School were Choir, AP Biology and Ceramics.

Choir provided the possibility of travel beyond a classroom setting.

"Choir was one of my favorite classes because I love singing, and Mr. Simmerman always made the class super fun. We also got multiple trip opportunities including Chanhassen Dinner Theater, Washington D.C. trip, and caroling at nursing homes," she said.

"AP Biology was another one of my favorite classes. I enjoyed learning more advanced curriculum, and Mrs. Willi is a fantastic teacher and always made the class entertaining," Shiloh said.

"Ceramics was my final favorite class. I enjoyed the freedom that Ms. Steinkraus gave me, and I was able to create a lot of fun projects," she said.

The recent spring school musical, "Beauty and the Beast," was Shiloh's most memorable event in high school.

"I love the mixture of singing, dancing, and acting involved in musicals. The late night practices and inside jokes made with the cast and crew were definitely the best part," she said.

During all four years at Boyceville High School, Shiloh was active in Drama Club, Science Olympiad and track.

She participated in Quiz Bowl and volleyball for one year each, and was active in cross country for three years.

"Drama was definitely my favorite extracurricular activity because each cast in every production is unique, and it is like having another family," Shiloh said.

This summer, Shiloh will be busy with work, friends and family.

"I plan to work over the summer to prepare for college. I also plan to go on trips with friends and family before I leave for college," she said.

Shiloh will be attending Carthage College in Kenosha.

"I will be majoring in biology and then later attending medical school," she said.

As a senior, Harper participated in Drama Club and in yearbook.

"Out of all of these activities, the sports were my most favorite. I liked being a part of a team competing against other teams in the Dunn St. Croix," Harper said.

"My team was like a second family to me, and I am going to miss playing sports in the future," she said.

Harper's summer plans include work, family and a mission trip.

"For the summer, I plan on making money for college while working more hours at Dakota's Place, which is an assisted living facility in Boyceville," she said.

"I plan on being with my family and friends, spending a lot of time with them before I head to college next fall. I plan to go to my cabin a lot in Cumberland and maybe even travel," Harper said.

"I have another mission trip that I will be attending this summer in Nashville, Tennessee, as well," she noted.

Harper will be attending UW-La Crosse this fall and plans to study Radiation Therapy.

GC High School valedictorian: Brendan Judson Booth

By LeAnn R. Ralph
GLENWOOD CITY — The Glenwood City High School Class of 2022 valedictorian is Brendan Judson Booth.

Brendan is the son of Steve and Crystal Booth.

Human Anatomy, AP English Literature/Language, band and choir, and physical education were Brendan's favorite classes at Glenwood City High School.

Human Anatomy with Kris Ohman "was my favorite class because the content was a great balance between a challenging curriculum and an amazing atmosphere and teacher," Brendan said.

David Popko in AP English/Literature provided "useful insight on the core of both literary techniques and rhetoric," he said.

Band and choir with Matt Lamb and Angela Hierlmeier were "enjoyable classes with dedicated teachers who always put their soul into their work," Brendan said.

Physical education with Shane Strong was "a fun class where students can compete with each other, while learning life-long skills from a dedicated coach," he said.

The SARS-CoV-2 pandemic and the effect of COVID-19 on planning a prom resulted in the most memorable event for Brendan while he was a student at Glenwood City High School.

"The most memorable event that occurred during my time in high school was my Junior Year Prom," he said.

"Our class had to plan a prom just after the height of the COVID pandemic. Under the new regulations, lack of funding, and tight schedule, our class was able to host a successful prom," Brendan said.

"This was especially memorable for me because I was able to go with all of my friends and make many memories," he said.

Brendan was active in a variety of activities all four years of high school, including being a church lector, altar server and part of the youth choir,

Brendan Booth
 Steve & Crystal Booth

band, Dunn-St. Croix Conference Band, choir, jazz and show choir, solo and ensemble, History Club, including serving as president of the History Club in his senior year, cross country, basketball and baseball.

During his junior year, Brendan was a member of the cast for the "Addams Family Musical," and in his senior year, was a member of the cast for "Joseph and the Amazing Technicolor Dreamcoat Musical."

He served as president of the National Honor Society in his senior year and served as class president in his junior and senior year.

Brendan was a member of student council in his senior year, was a member of Spanish Club in his senior year, and was a member of DECA (formerly Distributive Education Clubs of America) in his freshman year.

During his sophomore and his senior year, Brendan participated in state solo and ensemble.

"Of these activities, band was one of my favorites. I was able to learn how to play the trumpet in fifth grade, and I have been in love with it ever since," Brendan said.

"Through music, I am able to experience a portion of other cultures and time periods. While this is fascinating, being able to be with my friends was also a bonus," he said.

"In addition, Mr. Lamb taught my brother and I how to perform Taps for our servicemen and women. This has a special connection with us because we have so much family history that is tied with the military. I am proud to be able to use my talents to honor those who have served our country," Brendan said.

Brendan's summer will be devoted to working with his dad and practicing the trumpet.

"I plan to continue helping my dad with his lawn care business over the summer, while honing my trumpet skills in hopes of joining the Fighting Irish Marching Band. I also want to spend more time with my family and friends before I venture out to college," he said.

Brendan will be attending the University of Notre Dame this fall, where he will major in either biology or physics, "depending on where my interests lie." By LeAnn R. Ralph

Glenwood City High School salutatorian: Isabella Simmons

The Glenwood City High School Class of 2022 salutatorian is Isabella Simmons.

Isabella is the daughter of Nathan and Awbria Simmons.

During her four years at Glenwood City High School, Bella's favorite classes were Choir, Physics and Ruminant Animal Science.

Choir "was my all-time favorite class because of the memories and the people," she said.

Physics "was one of the more difficult classes to not become bored in, but my friends and I made it fun every day," Bella said.

As for Ruminant Animal Science, "I had a lot of fun in this class because I actually enjoyed learning the content and made many memories and friends," she said.

The state cross country meet turned out to be Bella's most memorable event in high school.

"I made so many memories and had so many great moments during those times. It is an event like this that will never leave you," she said.

Isabella Simmons
Nate & Awbria Simmons

"The summer after graduation I plan on spending many days with friends. I also plan on working to make enough money for my first year of college," she said.

Bella will attend UW-La Crosse this fall.

"I chose to pursue a biology major so I can eventually work towards my goal of becoming a veterinarian," she said.

"I also got the opportunity to run for the La Crosse Cross Country team, so I am super excited for that!" she said.
