

Snowhawks beat The Lakeland Times in season opener

Brett LaBore
OF THE LAKELAND TIMES

It was a hot opening day at Snowshoe Park in Lake Tomahawk as the Snowshoe baseball season began. The Lakeland Times, undoubtedly aided by this intrepid reporter, had the first chance to play the Snowhawks this season in what turned out to be a fun game.

Similar to last year, the Snowhawks beat The Times 19-15. After a rough start, we did make a little bit of a comeback late in the game.

"Felt really good (to be back out there)," Snowhawks coach Jeff Smith said. "Seems like it was a long year off and everybody anticipates June coming around the corner.

Waiting three weeks in June is kind of tough. Felt good once we kind of got there and the weather cooperated. A little hot, but cooled off a little bit."

The Snowhawks jumped all over us in the first two innings, scoring the maximum five runs in each inning. Jeff Smith and Derek Young reached base and scored both innings. In fact, I was the only one to record an out in the first inning on a pop-up in foul territory near third base.

It felt like a carousel in the second inning. As I played from third base, the Snowhawks kept rounding the bases, one after another. Everyone came to bat in the inning aside from Paul Miller.

Jake Schexnaydre runs the basepaths in a game against the Snowhawks Monday, June 20 at Snowshoe Park in Lake Tomahawk.

"We did have a couple practices beforehand, but we weren't hitting real good in the practices. All of a sudden balls were dropping in the right spots and runs were coming across," Smith said. "Yeah, I think it was a good overall game by our guys and yours."

Meanwhile, we weren't doing a good job at getting guys on base. The first five batters all got out. We didn't get our first hit until Gregg Walker reached first with a base knock.

Down 10-0, we would outscore the Snowhawks 15-9 the rest of the game. It started with a home run by Walker

Hartman. I waved him home from third as he easily scored for our first run.

The Snowhawks led 12-1 after four innings.

In the fifth inning, The Times really started to string some runs together. Walker reached with his second straight hit. Trevor Green, playing in his first Snowshoe baseball game, also reached with a hit. Jeremy Mayo picked up a hit to load the bases.

The bases were loaded as I came to the plate. I really wanted to do some damage to get some runs home. I hit it right back to pitcher Nick Mercks. He threw to first to record the out. I did get one run home.

Next up, Jake Schexnaydre, also in his first Snowshoe game, got his first hit of the ballgame to score some runs.

It ended up being a positive inning for The Times. We scored three times and did not allow the Snowhawks to score. Still, the Snowhawks led 12-4 after five innings.

"It was a little slow start from the team, but man you guys came on," Smith said. "You put a lot of balls where we weren't and you were back in the ballgame. It was a fun game... to start the season

Lakeland girls' hoops working on skills in summer league

Brett LaBore
OF THE LAKELAND TIMES

One of the ways the Lakeland girls' basketball team practices their skills is by playing in the D.C. Everest summer league. The Thunderbirds won two games Tuesday night.

"The main goal is to get the girls minutes on the court in game-like situations, getting them playing," coach Melissa Ouimette said. "To get them to gel as a team and to take what they're learning in skills... and to see if they can take those skills (we're) teaching and putting them into game-like situations and I'm starting to see them do that."

Lakeland beat SPASH (Stevens Point Area Senior High) 51-

34 in their first game. Later, Lakeland beat Wisconsin Rapids.

"I thought we had a nice game against SPASH. I thought our offense did well. We're working on some new things for offense. Either look to score or take a dribble to make a pass," coach Ouimette said. "Doing more man-to-man (defense). It helps us at practice to scrimmage man-to-man."

Crashing the glass is something the Thunderbirds are working on this summer. It paid off in their first game against SPASH.

Cassidy Cleveland grabbed an offensive rebound to assist Julianna Ouimette for two points. Then, Julianna Ouimette grabbed an offensive board to score two more.

Another offensive rebound led to a Kristina Ouimette 3-pointer at the top of the key.

"Just different concepts and I'm really trying to crash the boards more cause I always feel like that's been our weakness," coach Ouimette said.

It was 7-7 six minutes into the game.

Kristina Ouimette got hot from the outside. She knocked down two straight triples from the wings. Ali Timmerman assisted the second off another offensive rebound.

The Thunderbirds kept the ball moving. Julianna Ouimette found Lily Fortier in the paint for two points. Later on, Julianna Ouimette kicked it out to Charley Cleveland who made a 3-pointer from the corner.

"You want to move the ball. I don't like when we hold onto the ball forever," coach Ouimette said. "I like my shooters to try and shoot it or drive. If they get stopped, pass it to the open person. If the open person has a shot they love, take it. If it's a shot you don't love, try to create a better pass. I thought it moved around nicely."

Lakeland continued to take advantage of second chance points. Kristina Ouimette scored two and the foul on an offensive

Sophia Myshchyshyn, Kaeden Nomm take home Player of the Year awards

Brett LaBore

OF THE LAKELAND TIMES

Over the last few weeks, the Great Northern Conference released its all-conference baseball, girls' soccer and softball teams. The Thunderbirds ended up with one Player of the Year.

For baseball, soccer and softball, players are nominated by coaches and then voted on by the coaches. But the coaches cannot vote for their own players. All stats are from conference play.

Baseball

The Thunderbirds had three players make honorable mention all-conference.

Senior Zack Peterson was Lakeland's number one pitcher all season. He pitched 29 innings giving up 33 hits, 22 earned runs, 13 walks while striking out 38. He went 2-4 with a 5.31 ERA.

"Zack was a veteran presence for us this year. He is a guy that set the tone for his teammates with his desire and work ethic," LUHS baseball coach Randy Quade said. "And of course, he is a very good talented player that helped us win some games."

One of his best outings of the year came April 28 at Northland Pines. He pitched 6.1 innings giving up four hits, two runs, one earned run, three walks while striking out six. It helped the Thunderbirds win their first game of the year.

Junior Will Fortier made the team as an infielder. He batted .308 with six runs, two doubles, a team-high 12 hits and seven RBIs (tied for team high), playing first and third base during the season.

In this June 7, 2022 file photo, Kaeden Nomm tees off from the par four 18th hole at the WIAA Division 1 State Golf Tournament at Blackwolf Run Golf Course in Kohler. Nomm won the GNC Player of the Year for the second year in a row after finishing with the most points after all seven meets.

"Will is our best and most consistent hitter. He struck out just one time this year and did a great job in the cleanup spot," Quade said. "His defense started out a bit slow, but he got better and better and has become a confident third baseman for us. He also took on a role as a closer on the mound and did a really good job in that role."

Senior Will Bronoski was named honorable mention all-conference for the outfield. He batted .300 with a .400 on-base percentage. He also had seven RBIs, a team-high nine runs scored, nine hits, two doubles and two stolen bases. Bronoski also displayed a high level of defense in center field.

"Will surprised us this year. We had seen him show some leadership skills, but we had no idea how he would do out in the outfield after playing only a year of infield for us," Quade said. "He was such a solid presence out there in center and pretty solid at the plate."

Girls' Soccer

With Lakeland finishing first in conference, they were allowed to nominate a maximum of nine players. All nine players made an all-conference team.

Senior Sophia Myshchyshyn was voted Offensive Player of the Year and a unanimous first team selection. She was second in the GNC with 45 points and second with 11 assists. She tied for second with teammate Leah Wolfe in goals scored at 17. Rhinelander's Ava Lamers led the GNC in goals (20), assists (14) and points (54).

"Her ability to control the ball, her ball handling skills and shooting skills with both feet," LUHS girls' soccer coach Stephanie Hartzheim said about Myshchyshyn's skillset.

Wolfe, a senior, was also a unanimous first team selection. Within the GNC, she ranked third in points with 38, tied for second with 17 goals and tied for fifth with four assists.

"(Leah has) excellent ball skills, left/right shot, physical, getting into gaps to receive ball/move off ball, ability to see field, pass under pressure (and) wins ball in air," Hartzheim said.

Both Wolfe and Myshchyshyn were first team players a year ago as well.

Senior Naomi Hamerla placed first team all-conference, a unanimous selection, for her second year in a row at keeper. Joining soccer just a year ago, Hamerla backed up last year's stellar season with an even better one. She ranked first in goals against average at 0.23 and save percentage at .941.

"She is an outstanding athlete. She is very talented in many sports," Hartzheim said. "She leaves everything on the field and is not afraid to step up when needed."

Senior Olivia Melka was named first team all-conference, the first of her career. She tied for fifth in conference with four assists. She also scored three times for 10 total points.

"Excellent shot outside of box, makes right decisions to drop or cross, great corner kicks, switch ball from wing to wing, a senior leader," Hartzheim said.

Junior Callie Ullius was selected to the first team all-conference list. Having not played soccer since 7th grade, Ullius played a vital role in a Lakeland defense that allowed just three goals in conference.

"Callie has stepped up in the defensive line," Hartzheim said. "She has improved on her passing, ability to read the plays, movement with and without the ball."

Lakeland had two players make second team all-conference.

Junior Alyson Lazaroff used her experience and skill to lead the Lakeland defense.

"(Alyson has) great ball control, very physical, can read the game, knows where to distribute the ball, shield ball to keeper when needed, communicates, key player to prevent goals," Hartzheim said.

Junior Maria Gironella also placed second team all-conference. Gironella showed her versatility by playing all over the field. She played defense and midfield over the course of the season, scoring one goal and two assists for four points.

"(Maria has) the ability to switch ball, stops the center players, key player with distribution, engine does not stop — most miles on the team, transition balls from defense to offense, can see the field, quick at playing ball," Hartzheim said. "(She plays) a variety of positions played throughout the season when needed."

Sophomore Josie Wentland and senior Jenna Whitman made honorable mention all-conference.

Wentland scored three goals and picked up four assists, tied for fifth in conference, for 10 points.

"(Josie) never gives up, quick, great crosses/switch of field, strong corners, reads overlaps to defense, pass back or go with ball when needed, makes run to corner to beat most players," Hartzheim said.

This was Whitman's first time making an all-conference team. A starter her whole career, Whitman's experience in the back helped Lakeland to the best defense in the GNC. She also had a goal in GNC play.

"Jenna has grown over the last four years. She has stepped up every year a little bit more to grow as a player," Hartzheim said. "She has contributed a lot to the defense and has learned how to create an offensive play from the back."

Softball

Saylor Timmerman placed first team all-conference as a freshman, one of just two freshmen on the first team.

Timmerman dominated both in the circle and at the plate. As a pitcher, she ranked fourth in the GNC in ERA at 3.00. Her 169 strikeouts ranked first in conference, 69 more than Martha Miller of Medford. She did that in 77 innings pitched. She also tossed a perfect game May 7 vs. Rhinelander.

"It's all the hard work she puts in. She's really worked her butt off on different things and definitely shows how good she is and how good she can be," LUHS softball coach Michael Cox said. "She led the conference in strikeouts and she probably was top 10 in the state in strikeouts too. She's done well and she's going to do well."

As a batter, Timmerman ranked third with a .475 batting average. She tied for first with 19 hits (Mosinee's Amber Gonzalez) and led the conference with three home runs. She also picked up 14 RBIs.

Sophomore Hannah Louis joined the Thunderbirds as a transfer. She made an immediate impact, picking up honorable mention all-conference recognition. Louis batted .295 with a .380 on-base percentage. She had 13 hits, four doubles, seven RBIs and three stolen bases. She struck out only three times in 44 at-bats.

"She's put in hard work. It just goes to show you, you come from a different school, come from a different place, it's hard to do. It's a tough situation," Cox said. "And she pulled through for us and she's definitely one of our leaders on the team. She was an awesome captain. She missed second team all-conference by one vote."

Other sports

Numerous athletes

made the three all-conference teams in track and field. The top three finishers in each event made the all-conference teams from the May 17 conference meet.

Ethan Gonzalez, Jake Hayes, Casey Van Hefty and Bo Peterson won the 4x400 meter relay to place first team. Hayes also won the pole vault and Peterson the 400 meter dash.

Sherri Handeland, Grace Kern, Stella Meza and Kiera Rotar won the 4x400 to place first team.

Owen Clark finished runner-up in three different events - the 800, 1600 and 3200 meter runs. That put him second team all-conference in those events. Hayes finished second in the 400 meter dash for second team all-conference.

Brayden Wiczek took second in the long jump for second team.

Kern finished second in both the 200 and 400 meter dash for second team all-conference.

The girls' 4x800 meter relay team of Charlotte Gyuro, Handeland, Stella Meza and Sylvia Meza took second as well.

Two of the sprint relays for the boys made honorable mention. The 4x100 meter relay team of Max Masayeva, Nolan St. Germaine, Rocky Wagoner and Gonzalez finished third. The 4x200 meter relay team of St. Germaine, Wiczek, Masayeva and Talon Haling also finished third.

Haling placed honorable mention all-conference with a third place finish in the 300 meter hurdles. Maverick Metzger was honorable off. I'm happy that Gregg got a good team together and it was fun."

We continued our comeback in the sixth inning. Chad Metzger, Dick Lee and Craig Holmquist all reached with hits. Ed Rynders drove in a run with a hit. It was another positive inning as The Times had a net of two-plus runs in the inning.

After Travis Strasburg got the ceremonial melon to begin the seventh, we looked to have life again after Mayo reached on a one-out base knock. Feeling more confident following my previous at-bat, I boldly called my shot to deep right field. What followed was a line out to third, which turned into an inning-ending double play when Mayo hit the sawdust trying to retreat back to first.

"That sawdust was cooler than I expected, and wetter, too," exclaimed Mayo, who resorted to doing a sawdust-angel where he lay between first and second. "Thought for sure that ball was getting through, but it turns out reverse is not a gear I have in snowshoes."

Brent Cella showed off his power in the seventh inning for the Snowhawks. He hit a shot to deep center that just kept rolling. He raced around the bases to score the 14th run for the Snowhawks.

Schexnaydre got The Times rolling in the eighth with his second straight hit. Hartman, Metzger, Lee and Holmquist kept the inning going with hits. Two runs came to score in the inning.

The Snowhawks held onto a 14-9 lead heading into the bottom of the eighth. We all knew we had to hold them if we had any chance at winning.

We got the first two outs easily. Then, the Snowhawks came alive one last time. It was all capped off with a big homer by Gunner Dunbar over the fence in right field. That home run gave them the maximum five runs and a 19-9 lead.

"Everybody was waiting for him to do that. Right field is kind of a short fence so for a lefty it's a short shot, but he hit that a ton. I hope we see more of that out of him this year cause we could use it."

Did we have one more rally in us? We sure did. Strasburg got a hit, followed by Mayo with a liner to left. I finally reached base with an infield single, the first hit of the game for me.

Schexnaydre had a fielder's choice for the second out. Going back to the top of the order, Hartman hit a bomb for a grand slam. It was a 19-13 game.

"Cole (Punches) turned around cause I was in left field. He said, 'keep your eye on the ball, it's time to get out of here.' As long as it's in the infield, they were able to get the out," Smith said.

Metzger and Lee kept the inning going with hits. Holmquist and Rynders kept the inning alive. We had cut the lead to four runs. It felt like we had a real chance to tie it.

It wasn't meant to be as the Snowhawks fielded a ground-ball by Walker to get the out at second to end the game. We did improve from last year when we lost by six runs.

This was my third time playing in a Snowshoe game for The Times and I had an absolute blast. Next year we're getting that win.

Up next, the Snowhawks play the local police/fire department Monday, June 27 at Snowshoe Park in Lake Tomahawk. The game starts at 7:30 p.m.

"That'll be a good one too," Smith said. "They got a bunch of good guys, they hit the ball pretty well. Should be a good game."

Julianna Ouimette scored the first six Lakeland points in the second half, scoring three different ways. She went coast-to-coast with a basket. Then, she scored in the paint before making a jumper from mid-range.

Alyssa Erickson

made two shots late in the second half. One came on a scoop lay-up with traffic and another on a 3-pointer from the wings.

"We want to stretch the floor, create those open driving lanes. We practice shooting probably 40 minutes every skill session and we've been working on a lot of footwork too," coach Ouimette said.

Erickson then made an entry pass to Kristina Ouimette who scored an and-one basket.
