

CLARIFICATION

On page 8 of the Aug. 23 edition of The Lakeland Times in an article regarding Zoom voting in Presque Isle, Phil Harris, a town resident, correctly pointed out during the Aug. 18 meeting that “there is no absentee voting or voting by proxy allowed” at a town electors’ meeting.

Carol Nawrocki, assistant director of the Wisconsin Towns Association, said in an email to The Lakeland Times that a Zoom option for a town electors’ meeting only needs to be provided to the public if the board will be having its meeting via Zoom to ensure the public is not left out of the meeting.

“But, if the board is meeting in person and the public can attend in person, no Zoom option [to vote] must be offered,” she said.

Additionally, Harris referenced Wisconsin State Statute 60.14(1), which outlines that a property owner must also be a town resident to vote, not just a property owner.
