

Unified Therapy Services opens clinic in Lancaster

Unified Therapy Services invites the general public to their Grand Opening celebration at their new location in Lancaster, at 9179 Old Potosi Road, below Family Medical Center. Unified Therapy Services was previously located in Fennimore.

A grand opening will take place on Friday, May 12, from 11 a.m.-2 p.m. The ribbon cutting ceremony will begin at 11:30 a.m. Unified Therapy staff will provide informational facility tours and appointment scheduling throughout the event, along with gift bags, food, and beverages.

This newly renovated space offers a wide range of outpatient therapy services including physical, occupational, and speech therapies for pediatric and adult patients, and further provides more space to conduct therapeutic activities for our patients with a larger gym, reception area, waiting area and 4 private treatment rooms.

“Our new location is intended to deliver the same personalized care that has already been established, and to allow our patients to continue their care journey without interruption. It is our goal to provide a space that has the necessary space to allow us to facilitate the services and tools needed for us to treat our patients in an exceptional manner. This larger space and location will allow us to accommodate our growing list of Southwest Wisconsin residents who would benefit from our services.”

- Gina Bleau, M.S., CCC-SLP, Speech Therapist, BCBA, and co-owner of Unified Therapy Services

“We are excited to transition into our larger space in Lancaster to provide the same compassionate, patient-centered care we have always delivered. Making a difference in the community is our top priority and this relocation exemplifies our commitment to meeting the needs of our patients.”

- Madison Ryan, M.S., CCC-SLP, Speech Therapist

student get hands-on activity in manufacturing automation.”

Proise sated this made possible through the newly opened automation lab space in Sesquicentennial Hall on campus, and the university recently partnered with IBM, to begin “smart automation” training in addition to the hands on training.

Newly hired WIG Coordinator of CESA 3, Jessica Helms, emphasized the continuing effort of CESA 3 to increase youth apprenticeships in manufacturing.

Open to high school juniors and seniors, a youth apprenticeship, which comes at no cost to the students, provides on site job training with mentors, which provides those in the program related instruction, certifications and college credits (up to 12 credits for two year participants) as well as an hourly wage while taking part.

The program is open to all 31 school in the CESA 3 district, and Helms hoped that through the program, employers see the value of “preparing the net generation of their industry, creating their own talent pipeline, keep jobs in the area, and fill the workforce shortage gap.”

During the summit, representatives from employers K& A Greenhouse near Madison, Southwest

Wisconsin Library System and Kwik Trip, Inc., took part in an moderator led panel shared experiences, practices and success stories of hiring those with disabilities and/or younger apprentice aged student workers.
