Welcome

From the Mayor's Desk:

Welcome, all, to the city of Rice Lake. Our community has so much to explore and discover!

Walk uptown to our boutique shops, meander a street over to our rolling lakeshore and Veteran's Park, or stroll on down to our many shops and entertainment on the south side of the city. Take in the Cedar Side Trail for a fantastic view of nature, right here in the city!

Consider Rice Lake the place to live, work and play in all four seasons. When you're here, you'll never meet a stranger.

Whether visiting a relative, here for vacation or looking for a new home, look no further than the city of Rice Lake!

Justin Fonfara
Mayor of Rice Lake

Published by APG Media - Rice Lake Chronotype

The Basics

ABOUT

Rice Lake had its beginning in 1864 when Knapp, Stout and Company constructed a storage dam on the site of an early Indian village and a wild rice bed, taking the name of the community from that location. A mill was started at the dam in 1871 by M.W. Heller, who was the first permanent settler to move his family here. Heller was also in charge of the first store, hotel and blacksmith shop, which made the settlement the center for northern operations of Knapp, Stout and Company until the late stands of white pines in the area were exhausted.

In 1875, Knapp-Stout had roadways platted under the direction of surveyor J.W. Remington, which included a wider than normal thoroughfare which remains Main Street today. Not surprisingly, many of the names given to those platted streets are names associated with the logging company and its employees, along with some early pioneers.

Some of these streets include Allen, Barker, Bracklin, Carson, Chamberlain, Charles, Coleman, Evans, Gates, Hartel, Humbird, Knapp, Lee, Marshall, Messenger, Newton, Putnam, Sawyer, Slocum, Stout as well as John and Schneider — two streets named after one man.

Avenues named after lumber company crew and early settlers include Bone (former Chronotype editor and mayor), Barwise, Bundy, Cornell, Couture, Craite, Hammond, Hatten, Macauley, Noble, Nunn, Phipps, Poskin, Reuter, Rose, Tainter and Wilson.

Just 55 years after their arrival in Rice Lake, Knapp, Stout and Company's logging operations ceased and company mills went silent as the supply of virgin pine was exhausted. The once vast forest gave way to agriculture after stump-removal efforts. Hay, corn, potatoes and pickles were among the top crops grown in the Rice Lake area, which also boasted the largest pea canning factory in the area. As dairy farming emerged into the rural scene, so did creameries with almost every community having at least one.

While the company ended its local operations in 1901, logging and lumbering continued for another 30 years with the Rice Lake Lumber Co. as successor and Edward Hines Lumber Co. of Chicago purchasing the mill in 1919. It was destroyed by fire in 1934, ending the city's logging history while starting the growth of industry, commerce, healthcare and tourism.

A Message from the Rice Lake Main Street Association

Welcome to Historic Main Street and all it has to offer. We have everything from gorgeous retail shops and boutiques to restaurants and coffee shops to professional services of all kinds.

During summer 2023, the Historic District will be under construction and paving the way for a new and improved experience in the downtown. Our wonderful downtown businesses will remain open during the Main Street construction, so please stop by and show us your smiling face.

All of us in the Historic Downtown thank you for supporting and shopping your locally owned businesses.

Rice Lake Main Street Association can help answer any questions about the downtown and they can be contacted at 715-234-5117 or rimalnst@outlook.com.

A Few Things to Know

The reconstruction of Rice Lake's North Main Street between Evans and Water streets may disrupt traffic, but businesses and government buildings in the area plan to remain open in their current locations.

More information:

The status of reconstruction once it begins will be updated weekly and can be found at cl.rice-lake.wi.us.

SEH has been considering designs for trees and planting such as this one to make the future downtown Rice Lake North Main Street more inviting for pedestrians.

Barron Spotlighters

Beginning with the production of "Prisoner of Second Avenue" in 1978, the Barron Spotlighters have been offering quality local entertainment and theater opportunities for almost three decades.

Performing in the 500-seat theater of the Barron Area Community Center, the Spotlighters offer 3-4 productions per season and this year have expanded show dates to include more weekend performances. For production dates and ticket information call the Spotlighter's office at 715-537-9212.

Bayfield Trail

This Indian trading route entered Rice Lake at the northwestern part of the lake and continued down what is now North Main Street. Pipestone and wild rice from Rice Lake were traded to other areas. A historical marker is located on Lakeshore Drive. This overlooks the part of the lake where the wild rice beds were located. Just north of the marker, in the FFA Park, pits which were probably used to store wild rice can be found.

Biking & Hiking Trails

Rice Lake Trail System - The nearly 15-mile-long hiking/biking trail is comprised of five loops running from just south of downtown to the southern edge of the city. Directional signs are located along the entire trail system, and a designated parking lot is at the west terminus of South Street near the Northwood Technical College and UW-Eau Claire — Barron County campuses. Tuscobia State Trail, beginning just north of Rice Lake on Cty. SS, is the longest state trail in Wisconsin. It is a 76-mile abandoned railroad grade purchased by the state in 1966 for the enjoyment of hiking, biking, horseback riding, and snowmobiling. It is well-marked with constant grooming and maintenance. Part of the trail, from its western end to Angus, is also part of the Ice Age National Scenic Trail.

Ice Age National Scenic Trail, a 1,000-mile trail, encompasses part of the Tuscobia State Trail from its western end to Angus. For information, contact: Tuscobia-Park Falls State Trail, DNR Ranger Station, Winter, WI 54896, 715-266-3511.

Wild Rivers Trail: Rice Lake north city limits. 97 miles to Superior, WI. Multi-use, groomed snowmobile trail. 3 miles north of Rice Lake intersects with Tuscobia Trail, 74 miles east to Park Falls, WI.

River Doc Trails - The 3 1/2-mile single-track trail system to the north of Rice Lake serves as training grounds for the Rice Lake Composite Mountain Bike Team, but it is open to the public year-round. A parking lot is located on 24th Avenue.

Blue Hills Ski Area

Summer green, autumn gold, winter white – scenic enjoyment for motorists, cyclists, hikers and snowmobilers. These hills were once a gigantic mountain range some 20,000 feet high. Successive ice masses rounded off the peaks, and the last glacier stopped at the foot of these hills. Located east of Rice Lake on County C.

Boating

On Rice Lake. Bring your powerboat—water skiing is permitted. Sail or explore the bays by canoe or kayak. Public boat launching sites.

Bowling

Rand's Bowling Lanes at 1601 S. Main St., 715-234-9912. Modern, automatic pinsetters and score markers.

Casino

St. Croix Casino and Hotel, Hwy. 8, Turtle Lake, 1-800-846-8946. Centrally located in the heart of Northwestern Wisconsin's year-round vacation country. The hotel is located just seconds away from the area's ultimate gaming experience.

Seven-screen indoor complex.

From panfish to muskies, Rice Lake offers a wide variety of fishing opportunities in its back bays, along shorelines and in the main lake's deeper spots.

The 939-acre lake is a year-round fishing destination. Panfish, largemouth bass, northerns and muskies are all common in Rice Lake, while walleyes are an occasional catch. Smallmouth bass can be found on the Red Cedar River below the downtown dam.

There are several fishing piers around the lake, including in the downtown area. Two modern boat landings, with ample parking, are located just off of Main Street near the downtown bridge and also on Orchard Beach Lane on the south end of the lake. There are also several smaller landings, including off of Hwy. 48 on the far north end of the lake.

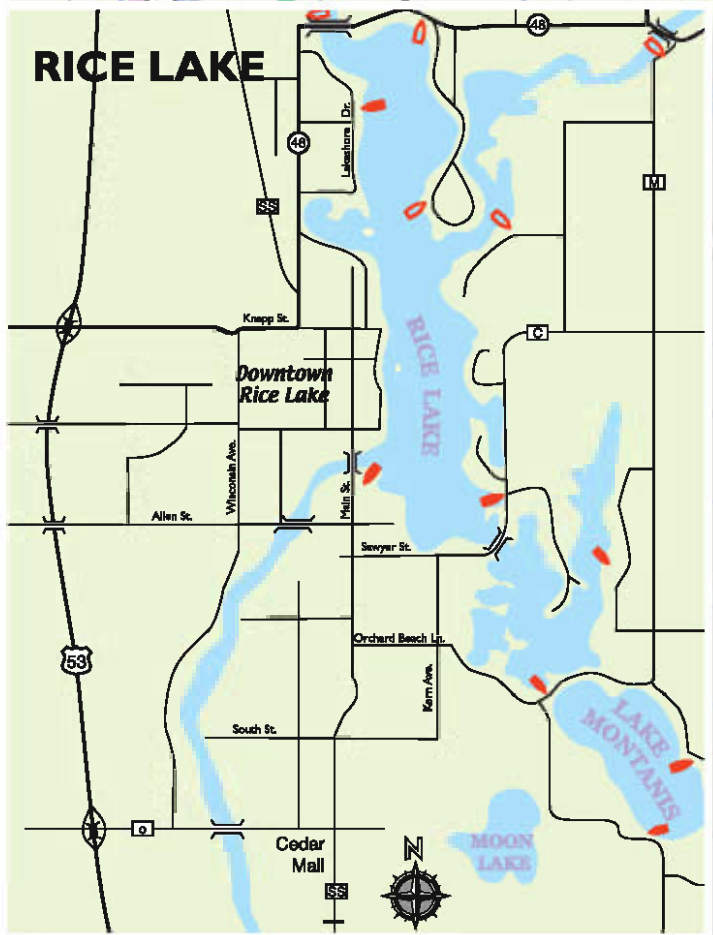

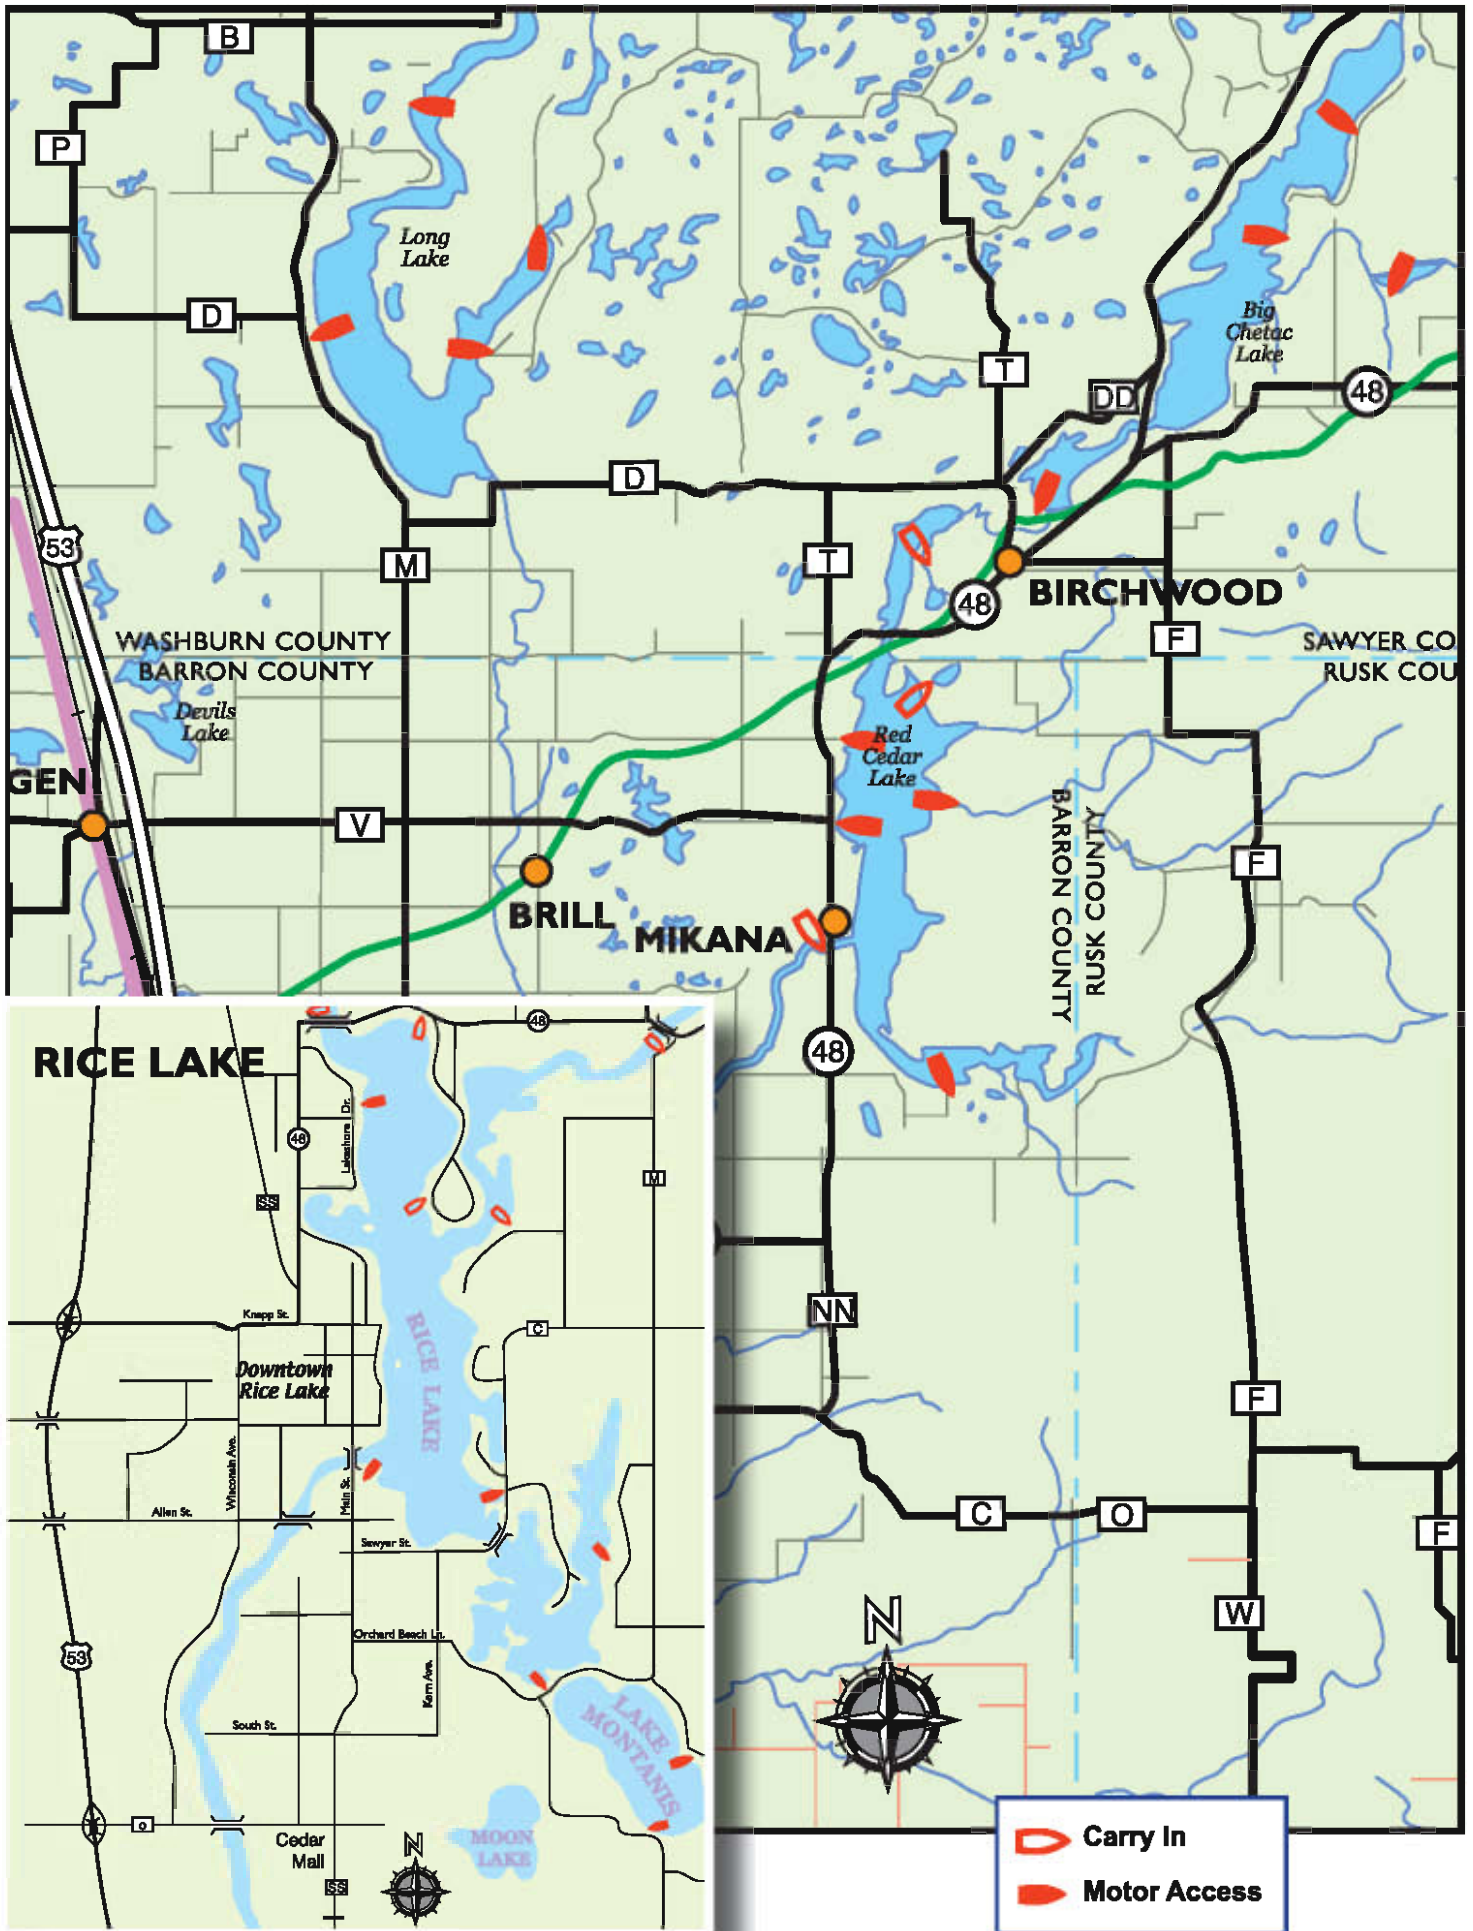

The lake's weedy areas support a strong northern pike habitat, and the northern fry provide food for a flourishing musky population. Since musky stocking began in the early 1980s, some fish have reached trophy size in excess of 50 inches.

Largemouth bass action is good in the east side bays dotted with stumps and submerged wood. The bays warm up quickly in the spring, making them a good early spot for panfish anglers.

The deepest part of the lake is on the south end, south of Narrows Bridge on Sawyer Street (Hwy. C). Depths range to 19 feet, and the area is a preferred spot for ice fishing, with a village of shacks showing up in early winter.

In addition to Turtleback and LynnDale's, the area boasts of several sporty 9- and 18-hole courses, all within easy driving distance of Rice Lake.

Among the courses are: an 18-hole course, Rolling Oaks at Barron; a challenging 18-hole course at Tagalong north of Rice Lake near Birchwood; and nine-hole public courses at Chetek, Dallas and Shell Lake.

18-hole courses are also found at Cumberland, Spooner and Long Lake.

Red Barn Summer Theatre:

2247 22nd St. 715-234-8301

Over 50 years ago, Nina Klaus assembled a cast of performers on a make-do stage platform in Cap Hagen's Hardscrabble Ski Chalet east of Rice Lake. Thus began the Hardscrabble Players, now famous nationwide for its excellence in Summer Stock theatrical productions.

The Players discovered the Red Barn in 1966. From their start there in 1967 it was a hit with the patrons, and the Hardscrabble Players decided to buy the building and make the "Red Barn Theatre" their home. In addition to theatrical performances, displays by area artists are featured during each play downstairs in The Gallery.

To carry on the legacy that Nina Klaus began and worked on tirelessly for a quarter of a century, a scholarship fund has been established in her memory to help further the education of young people dedicated to the theater arts—the purpose being to keep alive the dreams and tradition of The Red Barn Theatre. Call for reservations 715-234-8301 or 1-888-686-3770.

Northern Star Theatre: 12 W. Marshall St. 715-736-4444

Come visit Northern Star Theatre in Rice Lake, where we perform, practice in a spacious rehearsal room, and host intermissions in a cozy gallery.

The new season of shows will be announced in November at a "Season Reveal" Party where guests will hear snippets of scenes and show tunes for nine new shows followed by auditions for those shows in January. Season tickets will be available starting in November.

NSTC continues its tradition of serving youth performers through KidsOnStage (ages 7-10), Tweens On- Stage (ages 11-14) and Teens On Stage (15-19) with their own shows as well as offering family friendly musicals, plays, and a holiday show. As a part of the downtown area, the theater location includes two new artistic ventures: Le Vie Dansante dance studio and Mara Hallie Photography. The Wicked Whisk has joined NSTC in providing intermission desserts and beverages at shows.

The theater is opening its space to other nonprofits, civic organizations, small businesses, or families who may want to make use of available space for either long term rental or single events. The community is welcome to tour the theater space, the very large rehearsal space, the open gallery and the conference room as well as the rest of the newly renovated building.

If you are interested in touring building spaces, attending a show or volunteering to help with theater productions, give us a call at 715-736-4444 and leave a message or email info@nstcrichelake.org
