

The race is on

It's time to choose the Best of the Amery Area. The polls are open and it's again time to pick your favorite local people, places and things.

The fourth annual Best of the Amery Area Contest begins accepting votes at 9 a.m. July 12. All votes are cast online at www.theameryfreepress.com/bestof. The polls close at 5 p.m., Sunday, August 6.

From the Publisher's Desk
Tom Stangl

Unlike other elections, you can vote multiple times. In fact, we encourage voting once every 24 hours to help your favorites win in their respective categories.

Running a small business in a rural community has never been easy. In the past four years since we launched the contest, businesses have struggled with everything from a global pandemic to shortages and inflation. And that's on top of regulations, taxation and competition.

That's one of the many reasons I love Best Of. This is a quick and easy way for many of us to show our appreciation and love for the people, places and things that have been here for us.

If you are new to all of this, here's a short primer about the contest.

Nominations for the best in seven categories: eating and drinking, sports and recreation, health and fitness, shopping, arts and entertainment, local and services were accepted online from May 3 – May 19. We received over 4,300 nominations this year in over 80 different categories. The people, places or things with the highest number of nominations made the ballot. We have a limit of five names per category. A few contests have less than five candidates.

Now that voting is underway, you can head to the online ballot and begin selecting your favorite things from best celebration or festival to best local sports team and anything in between. The website will ask you to register and provide an email address. We do this to ensure people vote only once every 24 hours. You will receive a confirmation email to verify your email address as well as a custom link you can use once daily while voting is open to return to the ballot to vote.

When voting ends August 6, we will tally the votes and begin preparation of the special section announcing the winners. This section will come out online and in the Free Press the week of October 4.

Winners and finalists will receive a certificate (suitable for framing), a window or door cling and bragging rights for the next 12 months. The recommendation of the readers of the Free Press carries weight when some people are deciding which places or services to patronize.

Whether we want to admit it or not, there is a deep-seated desire in many of us to excel and for our hard work to be recognized. Contests like Best Of provide a friendly way for us to let people know their hard work has been noticed and is appreciated.

I encourage you all to check out the contest, cast a vote for one or more of your favorites and return each day to do it all over again. If you are in doubt of who is the best, you have time to visit and or sample the products.

Encourage your family and friends to do the same.

Best of luck to all the nominees!

As always, I welcome your comments. You can reach me by email at tstangl@theameryfreepress.com, telephone 715-268-8101 or write me at P.O. Box 424, Amery, WI, 54001.

Thanks for reading. I'll keep in touch. Feel free to do the same.

We didn't start the 54001 fire

To say it has been a week with a rollercoaster of emotions would be an understatement. As many of you know by now, for the past six months I have been gathering information concerning the debilitated environment at Amery's City Hall.

I poured myself into conversations where I wrote down every word, with the time and date. I

Editor
April Ziemer

noted when someone told me a story and it was different than what they had told me the previous time. I noticed behaviors, made countless open records requests and spoke with attorneys to stay on top of our rights as a newspaper.

On top of this, it has been my year as Amery Community Club President. I have barely seen my family, I have gone on very little sleep and shed many tears of frustration, but I kept on while watching a community I loved grow more concerned and bursting at the seams with distrust.

I had readers call, email and stop me in the grocery store and voice their disappointment and anger. I watched as some people I truly cared for went through a lot of turmoil either as City employees or City Council members.

Eventually I watched this beautiful little city be absolutely shamed on the internet and it seems that was the beginning of the end. What I mean by that, is two resignations soon followed—the Mayor and the Chief of Police (Technically I guess the Chief retired).

I had people ask if it felt like a weight off my shoulders, but it did not. While I was relieved when residents learned about the secrets of the past months, last week for me came with nasty emails, phone calls, blasts and cheap shots.

There is no doubt it can be a really hard thing to take accountability. While over my years here I have grown thicker skin than I had in the beginning, I can't say it is ever easy. I also know it hasn't been easy to be in the shoes of people in the police department, city council, other city staff, the Mayor, ex-Chief Hainzl or his wife.

I would like to make it clear though, I have a job to do and I certainly do have an agenda. My agenda is to seek the truth and print the news. My agenda is to provide real transparency for the community and not various versions of transparency based who is reading the publication.

If your actions provide me with material, then your self-written script will play out on these pages. It has always been that way since the newspaper was founded in 1892. Sometimes the script handed to me is full of amazing and wonderful things and other times it isn't. Sometimes it is a rare storm- but like a wise rock n' roller once said, "We didn't start the fire. It was always burning, since the world's been turning. We didn't start the fire- No, we didn't light it, but we tried to light it."

With his hit song "We Didn't Start the Fire," Billy Joel managed to cover 40 years of history in roughly four minutes, beginning with Harry Truman's presidency in the late 1940s and concluding with the "cola wars" that extended into the 1980s.

"We Didn't Start the Fire" was a massive success.

Now, love it or hate it, rock band Fall Out Boy has picked up where Joel left off. In a video released June 28, they take listeners on a ride from 1989 through 2023, chronicling "newsworthy items." Music icons like Elvis Presley and Buddy Holly have been swapped for Prince and Michael Jackson; sports figures like Joe DiMaggio and Mickey Mantle have been replaced with LeBron James and Tiger Woods; and "Catcher in the Rye" has given way to "Harry Potter" and "Twilight."

"I thought about (Joel's) song a lot when I was younger," Fall Out Boy bassist Peter Wentz said in a statement attached to the official lyric video on YouTube. "All these important people and events — some that disappeared into the sands of time — others that changed the world forever. So much has happened in the span of the last 34 years — we felt like a little system update might be fun."

After I heard about the remake of the tune, it really resonated with me that the lyrics were so much like being a journalist. During my time here at the Amery Free Press, I have covered swell things, sad times, epic events and gut-wrenching moments for Amery, WI. 54001.

So, move over Fall Out Boy. I am hoping readers can start to cue up an arrangement of piano, Hammond organ, clavinet, synthesizer, harpsichord, accordion and percussion in the key of G Major in their minds and sing along to my version of We Didn't Start the Fire-Amery edition

City crewmen, beach decay, dine China, FFA

Lots of thrifts, books on Kindle, National Night Out

No more Hardees, vape addiction, Summer Lakers, street revision

Good ideas, bad ideas, more "I told you so"

Golf Course, Northwest Comm, Mayor Kay, Camelot

Land goes, a thing to lie, and beers at the Alibi

Water tower, ArtZ, he's hard working Rodney

Luciana, Garibaldis, Darcy Long goodbye

We didn't start the fire

It was always burning, since the world's been turning

EDITOR: Didn't light it, but we tried to fight i

CONTINUED FROM PAGE 4

We didn't start the re
No, we didn't light it, but we tried to ght it Baller Wollin, Uncle Bob, airport move is gutsy Harvey Stower; Mike Karuschak, left their mark Al/Bones, Sondreal's, Keith
Karpenski, Niccum
Music on the River in our own Michael Park BrowTine, Cary Dean, take care Doctor Marty AmTech, Walking Plan, visit Phylbeas, Worn Again Leadholms, Hopkes best, Johnson's camera, Amery Chev Ike in place, schoolboard race, get your Amery Free Press
We didn't start the re
It was always burning, since the world's been turning
We didn't start the re
No, we didn't light it, but we
tried to ght it City clock by the Tac, Shorev-iew rentals, online rants Kwik Trip, taxes rise, wait for Jeremy's peace sign Marson, Riverplace Mall, Jorgenson Field softball

Miller leaves Countryside, loss of Bursik makes us cry Bowling alley, sewer smells funky, ma a Chicken coops, bass pro, Apple River shing holes More brew, family trees, missing Amery Bakery First Lutheran, St. Joes, don't forget the Congo
We didn't start the re
It was always burning, since
the world's been turning
We didn't start the re
No, we didn't light it, but we
tried to ght it Biking lanes, AmFam, Duane Riley mows the land North Twin, Red Warriors win again
Village Pizzeria, Amery Ale
Works Trivia
Trail dis, mailmen, it's Fall Fest time again Pickleball, sidewalk specs, local clubs give scholarships Jimmy K - drove away, not before the district paid
We didn't start the re
It was always burning, since
the world's been turning
We didn't start the re
No, we didn't light it, but we
tried to ght it

First in goal, Humpal grin, football has a record win Screen bought, table fought, Open Skate, clutch talk Voted, COVID, Zoom online, all new High School design Lions run the porkchop stand,
'round the world Monson ran Friends of Stower, sledders ride, looks like the courts decide Center debts, giving vets, Stems, Dick's, Ellies-Chets Topics for closed session doors, many many people saw Just admit mistakes were yours, town can't take it anymore
We didn't start the re
It was always burning, since
the world's been turning
We didn't start the re
But when we are gone It will still burn on, and on, and on, and on, and on, and on, and on, and on
We didn't start the re
It was always burning, since
the world's been turning
We didn't start the re

Feel free to email me at editor@theameryfreepress.com, write me at P.O. Box 424, Amery WI. 54001 or I can be reached by phone at 715-268-8101.

Not impossible

I have always relied upon my cousin Dane.
We grew up together. I'm a year older, but he's the closest in age of my many cousins. Our families went camping together and bought a cabin up north together, and I've gotten into the habit of asking Dane for help whenever I've needed it, because Dane is the kind of guy who can be relied upon.

The Postscript
Carrie Classon

Dane works as a stage rigger, and he's the road manager for a band, so he has to know a lot about a lot of things. He understands electrical gadgets of every kind.
He knows how audio systems and lighting work. He is quiet and mechanical and practical and laid-back. His garage is the tidiest I've ever seen, with a tool of every kind, all neatly labeled.

He's the kind of guy who sits back in a room and listens to everyone trying to solve a problem and, after they've exhausted themselves trying to gure something out, he'll say, "You know, what you might try is..." And whatever he suggests, it will be exactly the right thing to do.

Because I have always relied on Dane, I didn't think I could be surprised if someone said that Dane had come around to lend a hand. But last week, I was surprised.

My husband, Peter, and I were up visiting my parents while my sister, her husband and her son were on their way to California, camping along the way. My niece, Isabelle, is taking summer classes at the university and working at Target, so she stayed behind to watch the pets.

Isabelle called one night right before dinner.
"Did you hear what happened with the camper?" she said, a little breathless.

"No!"
"What happened to the camper?" my mother wanted to know.

"It came right off he hitch! While they were on the freeway!"

"Oh, no!" my mother said.
"It did! But the chain caught it."

I tried to imagine careening down the highway with a pop-up camper attached to the back of the car with only a safety chain. It sounded awful.

"But they got off o the side of the road to x it. Then you'll never guess what happened!"

"What?" my mother and father and Peter and I all wanted to know.

"Dane came and helped them get the camper back on!"
This made no sense at all.

My sister and her family were in Nevada. Dane lives approximately 1,800 miles away.

"Dane?"
"Dane! He said he saw them pulled off o the side of the road and he stopped to help."

I talked to Dane a little later on.
"You helped my sister with her camper—in Nevada?"

"Yup. About 30 miles out of Reno."
"How does that happen? What are the odds of that?"

"I dunno. I was driving back from the show, and I saw this camper pulled off he side of the road and I thought that looked like your sister, so I stopped."

"You realize what the odds against something like that happening are? If you read that in a novel, you'd say it couldn't happen."

"Well, it's not impossible, I guess." That was all Dane had to say. He helped them back onto the road and headed off n the opposite direction. I thought how lucky it was to have someone as helpful as Dane show up exactly when he was needed—as Dane is apt to do.

"That's crazy," I told Isabelle when I next saw her.
"It is crazy," she agreed.

But not impossible, as Dane pointed out.
Till next time,
Carrie

Photos from the column and other fun stuff an be found at CarrieClasson.com.

FREE Online version to all Amery Free Press Print Subscribers!

To subscribe, just call 715-268-8101

www.theameryfreepress.com

COUPON

BOGO

Buy one box of Dilly Bars, get 2nd box for $1

221 S. Keller Ave., Amery 715-268-2117
Mon - Fri 11-7; Sat-Sun 11-8:30
Coupon expires July 18, 2023

715 Real Estate

A better way to do Real Estate

Home of the 4% Listing

Jered Everts
Real Estate Broker
651-248-5481 jeredevarts@gmail.com

Rose Martin
Real Estate Agent
715-377-5055
rose_martin55@yahoo.com

America's Only Moving Bed & Breakfast Dinner Train

Tuesday to Saturday Evenings ~ Dinner on a moving train, great bar car, overnight with queen bed, hot breakfast

Family Owned and Operated since 1997

Great Date Night, Birthday or Anniversary Book Today! www.spoonertainride.com

Ticket Office
715-635-3200