

New Times Press Reporter Katie Kovacs

By Katie Kovacs
Reporter

My name is Katie Kovacs; I am a 28-year-old Black Creek local and I am thrilled to join the team as a Times Press reporter.

Growing up, I adored telling stories through writing, music and theatre. I studied Radio/TV/Film at the University of Wisconsin Oshkosh and graduated with a Bachelor's degree in 2014. Three months after graduating I flew to Byron Bay, Australia to develop my own story.

A thirst for adventure led me to a variety of jobs in various countries, including sales and marketing in Australia, kiwi fruit maintenance in New Zealand, teaching English as a foreign language in Vietnam and bartending in England. My favorite place to travel is Cambodia because of the aromatic foods, friendly people and intense cultural differences.

I decided to come back to Wisconsin to re-enter the professional world with a new set of eyes and an open mind. I am excited to start a new adventure with the Times Press and I look forward to reconnecting with local residents.

I currently reside in Black Creek.